2nd Fire Station Needed

Fast - growing Rockdale has almost become two separate towns and the western town needs a fire station. That's the opinion of Fire Chief Johnny Weedand and he hopes any future city bond election will include money for a fire station to serve west Rockdale. "We would like for every place in the city limits to be within 1 1/2 miles or 5 minutes of a fire station," he said.

Fuel Adjustment Soars

A fuel adjustment of 144 percent was reluctantly approved by the Georgetown city council, meaning everybody's utility bills will get another big boost to meet the cost of the expensive fuel. Last month's charge was 103 percent and the highest previous one for the city was 126.5 percent, making next month's 144 percent the all-time high.

Deficit Figures Differ

Bell County's financial deficit is not as great as had been estimated according to final and official reports by an audit firm. The final report sets the deficit at $537,000. However, County Judge Harold Harris considered the actual 1976 indebtedness to be $820,000. Harris bases his figures on the fact the audit does not include money borrowed at the close of the 1976 fiscal year to meet county obligations.

County Judge Arrested

The Falls County Judge and the owner of a Marlin filling station are out of jail on $500 bonds after they were charged with misdemeanor assault. They were arrested by Marlin police Tuesday about noon while fighting on the front lawn of the courthouse. Police said they did not know the cause of the fight, but each man told police the other attacked first.

Rosebud Hires Chief

The Rosebud city council hired Mike Green, a deputy with the Harris County sheriff's department, as the city's new police chief. Beginning Oct. 24, Green will replace Rodney Blasingame, who resigned Oct. 6 to work outside law enforcement. Green, who has six years experience in law enforcement as a deputy and a fish and game warden, was hired after the council interviewed three applicants for the job.

Disaster Status Sought

Lampasas County will ask to be declared a disaster area because of the summer-long drought. An ASCS representative said about 20 percent of basic herds have been sold, only 50 percent of the maize and corn crop has been produced, and only 40 percent of the normal hay crop. The county has had less than 14 inches of rain this year.

City Protests Permit

Gatesville's city council voted to file a protest with the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission against an application for a permit to operate a private club in the Kountry Kitchen restaurant. Action came after a public hearing at which a majority of the 120 persons attending indicated opposition to the proposal.

Auxiliary Opposes Treaty

Thorndale VFW Auxiliary members have signed a petition in a campaign to defeat the Panama Canal Treaty begun by the state headquarters. Copies of the petition with Auxiliary members names will be sent to Texas senators in Washington upon completion.

WHAT HAS THIS TRUCK to do with a cross country flight by Buckholts Mayor Richard Crowe? Simply that the town is having a flyathon, with proceeds to help pay for the fire truck. Crowe will fly from San Diego, Calif. to Florida next weekend, and if the trip is successful, it will set a record for a Piper Cub on the southern route.

Mayor's Cross-Country Flight To Aid Buckholts Fire Fighters

Funds for helping pay for a fire truck for Buckholts will be raised in a unique way next weekend when the town's mayor, Richard Crowe, will attempt a non-stop flight in his single engine plane from San Diego, Calif. to San Augustine, Fla.

The Buckholts Lions Club will sponsor the flyathon and has set a goal of $3,000 which will be used to retire the debt on the town's two and a half-year-old fire truck. Citizens are being asked to sponsor the flight by paying so much a mile, from one cent up.

Crowe will attempt to fly his Piper Cub PA 18 a distance of about 2200 miles. If successful, the flight will be a record for that size craft.

All proceeds of the flyathon will be used for payment on the $4,500 still owed on the fire truck and for fire department expenses. The town's only income for the fire department is $400 yearly from the county and donations of concerned citizens.

United Way Helps Center Is Busy Place

The Cameron Community Center is one of the busiest places in town, with use just about every day by both private and non-paying organizations.

Mrs. Glenda Moseley, center director, said the center was used 377 times between Oct. 1, 1976 to Sept. 30, 1977, with 250 of these times by federal, state, and organizations supported by United Way, on a non-paying basis.

The center is used by private individuals for parties, wedding receptions, reunions, and for any affair that needs a large, clean, comfortable place to make it a success. Senior citizens gather monthly for a covered dish meal, games, and informative programs.

The building itself actually belongs to the Cameron Housing Authority, which, along with the city, maintains the building for community use.

Last year United Way funds were used to purchase a dishwasher, Mrs. Moseley said, which adds much to the convenience of the center's furnishings.

Trooper Reports Two Accidents

DPS Trooper Don Wardlow investigated two traffic accidents Wednesday, one near Cameron and the other near Milano. Neither driver was hurt in the mishaps.

At 6:30 a.m. Wednesday an L. B. Foster Steel Co. truck lost a load of 20-inch pipe at the west intersection of Highways 36 and 79 at Milano when a chain broke and dumped the load. The driver was Robert Field of Lubbock.

Then at 8:25 p.m. Wednesday a pickup driven by Ricky Shaw of Cameron went out of control in the construction area on the west end of Little River bridge and turned over.

Ideally equipped with full kitchen facilities, including punch bowl, coffee makers and air conditioning, the center is a favorite place to hold gathering and parties.

Charges for private use range from $7.50 to $20. The center is available for private use by all residents. They should make reservations as soon as a party or other event is planned, Mrs. Moseley said. She said December is a busy month at the center, and the summer Sundays already have 18 reservations for next year.

Mrs. Moseley said needs of the center will be discussed at a future meeting of the Housing Authority.

County Hears Praise For Records, Agrees To Update Tax Rolls

The county's new bookkeeping system is "second to none in the state of Texas" according to the auditor whose firm set it up this year, county commissioners were told Thursday morning.

Ray Harris, partner in the auditing firm of Harris, Havens & Co. of Sinton, told the court that the county was the first in a pilot program to have its books put on a computer and that he was "real proud" of the officers and employees of the county who have worked to make the system a success.

Harris said the next county audit would cost less than the first since records would be better and he left it up to the commissioners to choose an auditing firm for the annual audit voted earlier in the year.

It other business, commissioners voted to go ahead with plans to co-relate school district valua-

The Lions donated $2,000 for purchase of the truck.

All Buckholts will be following the mayor's flight, and his wife Pam will call set checkpoints across the nation so that Crowe's progress can be plotted as he goes across the southern route.

Crowe, president of Buckholts State Bank, will fly from Buckholts to San Diego Oct. 22. He will leave San Diego after a night's sleep and expect to land in Florida the next day. He plans to take pictures of the earth below as he makes the 27-hour flight.

Charles Treptow, Lions Club vice president, said there is a lot of risk involved for Crowe, but he doesn't expect any trouble during the trip.

Crowe's flight will be sanctioned by the National Aeronautics Association, the same group that sponsored Charles Lindbergh's historic flight over the Atlantic.

Crowe's Piper Cub is the third plane he has bought to make the cross-country flight. The first two planes, both more than 30 years old, were never adequate to pass the test for the trip. His present plane is 21 years old.

Crowe says he likes to fly. "It offers you a three-dimensional freedom that's hard to duplicate in this world."

tions and county valuations for comparison as a first step to equalizing taxes and updating the county tax rolls.

County Judge O. B. Harden pointed out that expenditures from Jan. 1 to Sept. 30 totaled $430,000 which is over the budget by $105,000, and that the county is facing another deficit this year. "We have to do something" he said.

He said the county's valuations of $40 million at 95 cents tax brings in $380,000, besides what goes to the precincts.

Harden said the school districts in the county have agreed to cooperate and that Leon Brady of Buckholts, who has had training in assessing, had agreed to head the project, if approved by the Manpower Consortium which will help pay for the job.

It was agreed that there is a lot of taxable property that is not

Death Ruled Accident

A ruling of accidental death was made Thursday by Justice of the Peace Jess Brock for a Cameron man found dead in his pickup near Pettibone Thursday morning.

Sheriff Leroy Broadus identified the victim as Clifford Ray Morgan, 38, of Rt. 1, who was pronounced dead at the scene at 9:15 a.m.

Broadus said Morgan was found slumped in the pickup and his office was called by Herman Bayer. Broadus said Morgan had apparently taken a .22 rifle from a rack in the truck and the rifle accidentally discharged, the bullet striking him in the head.

Morgan was found on a gravel county road about four and six-tenths miles from Cameron. Deputies John Brooks and Thomas Harris investigated the accident.

Caperton To Head Youth Exposition Association

Narvie Caperton is the new president of the Youth Exposition Building Association following his election last week at an annual meeting of the Association.

Other new officers include Ervin Fuessel, vice-president; Bill McCutchen, secretary; and Melvin Hollas, treasurer. New directors elected were Charles Riola, Mrs. Paul Hoelscher, Morris Coward, Shelby Smith, Jan Luecke and Steve Beatte.

Buddy Dulin reported the Noon Lions Club has set aside $1,500 to contribute to the building to aid the retirement of debts.

It was also reported that the Cameron Industrial Foundation is installing electrical wiring in the gravel floor building and the building will be used for a welding school in cooperation with TSTI and Butler Weldments. The wiring will be at no cost to the YEBA.

A name sign was discussed and Charles Kunz said his committee is working on promoting usage of the building.

The next large event scheduled for the building is the Junior Livestock Show on January 13 and 14.

getting on the rolls, and that the upcoming change in vehicle registrations will also affect the county's income.

Commissioners also discussed a request from a Minerva resident for traffic signs in the Tomerlin Addition where speeding vehicles are a danger to the 22 children who live there. An opinion from the county attorney will be requested to define the county's authority for installing signs.

The court appointed Richard Crowe and Walter Pyle to the joint city-county airport zoning board, and voted to leave the post of constable for Pct. 3 open until the next election.

Harden also reported that there is a possibility the county may be asked to be declared a disaster area because of the current drought.

Civil Liberties And Criminal Law

By The Hon. Damon J. Keith

Editor's Note: This is the ninth in a series of 15 articles exploring "Crime and Justice in America." In this article, the Honorable Damon J. Keith, Chief Judge of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan, discusses the problem of striking a balance between the rights of society and the rights of the accused. This series was written for COURSES BY NEWSPAPER, a program developed by University Extension, University of California, San Diego, and funded by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. Supplemental funding for this course was provided by the Center for Studies of Crime and Delinquency, National Institute of Mental Health.

all cases involving a serious crime.

EXCLUSIONARY RULE

More controversial has been the Court's attempt to modify the actions of law enforcement officers in their search, arrest, and interrogation of defendants by excluding illegally seized evidence from trial.

For example, in "Weeks vs. United States" (1914), the Supreme Court held that the fourth amendment prohibition against unreasonable searches and seizures of persons and property requires a federal court to exclude evidence obtained by federal agents in violation of the amendment. In 1961, in "Mapp vs. Ohio," the Court extended this rule to the states.

Critics claim that this exclusionary rule penalizes society and rewards the defendant for the mistakes of the police.

Others argue, however, that the police are concerned primarily with the confiscation of contraband and the disruption of suspected criminal activity rather than with ultimate conviction.

Therefore the police are not deterred from illegal searches and seizures even if the case is thrown out of court. But alternative attempts to deter illegal police conduct -- such as civil actions for damages brought against the police by victims of illegal searches -- have proven largely ineffective. Thus the dilemma remains.

The exclusionary rule has also been used to exclude as evidence confessions obtained by the police from suspects who had been denied an opportunity to consult with counsel. In 1964, in "Escobedo vs. Illinois," the Court ruled that a confession thus obtained was a violation of the sixth and fourteenth amendments.

MIRANDA

Two years later, in the landmark decision of "Miranda vs. Arizona," the Court laid down specific guidelines for police interrogation of persons in their custody. "Miranda" required law enforcement officers to warn suspects that they had a right to remain silent, that anything they said could be used against them in a court of law, and that they had a right to counsel before and during the interrogation. Only if a suspect waived these rights could police obtain a valid confession.

The "Miranda" decision has been severely criticized, not so much for the constitutional principles it enunciated, as for its critical view of police interrogation methods at a time when many police forces were under community pressure for not doing enough to halt the rapid rise in crime.

Also, as Fred Graham, Supreme Court correspondent for "CBS News," wrote, the decision smacked of "benevolent authoritarianism" by the judiciary -- an attempt to reform society from the top down, by imposing on the police rigid procedural rules.

"Miranda" came to symbolize the tension in our system of law between the protection we guarantee the accused, and the protection we provide society from crime. As violence and street crime increased throughout the 1960s, many people felt that the criminals were winning the war on crime, not just on the street, but in the police station and courtroom as well.

But constitutional adjudication is never static. In "Johnson vs. New Jersey" (1966), the Supreme Court held that Miranda was not to be applied retroactively.

In "Harris vs. New York" (1971), the Court held that a defendant's statements to the police, made without being informed of his "Miranda rights" and therefore inadmissible in the prosecution's direct case, could nonetheless be used to impeach the defendant's trial testimony. And in "Michigan vs. Taylor" (1974), the Court held that evidence obtained in pre-"Miranda" interrogation could still be used against a defendant in a trial beginning after the "Miranda" decision. Over time, the balance drawn between the rights of the accused and the interests of the accuser seems sometimes to tip in one direction, sometimes in the other.

THE WRONG QUESTION

But to ask if the scales of justice have been tipped too far in favor of the accused is, I think, to misstate the question.

We should ask instead if the civil rights of the accused are mandated by the Constitutional safeguards against potential abuses of power by the government. I think that they are.

Anger at "permissive" judges obscures the fact that the Bill of Rights was included in our Constitution to protect the citizens of the newly created republic against government abuses of power.

If the government's power to search our property, seize our person, compel our confession, set our bail, direct our trial, and determine our punishment is unchecked, then no one is really safe from the possibility of an unjust arrest and conviction. The requirements of the due process amendments check the government's discretion and afford various weapons to the accused for his or her own defense.

We extend these safeguards to defendants not because we sympathize with what they may have done, but because in upholding their rights, we protect our own. In guaranteeing the rights of others to be innocent until proven guilty, and in limiting the methods the state can use to prove them guilty, we affirm our faith in a nation under law, and our confidence in a free society.

The views expressed in COURSES BY NEWSPAPER are those of the authors only and do not necessarily reflect those of the University of California, the funding agencies, or the participating newspapers and colleges.

NEXT WEEK: Jerrold H. Skolnick, Director of the Center for the Study of Law and Society at the University of California, Berkeley, discusses the problems of law enforcement in a free society.

Dismay Turns Positive...

The response of City Planning Commission is quite proper. The apparent regressive vote by City Council on proposed annexation a few weeks ago unhatched hard facts which have aroused most residents of Cameron.

City Planning Commission emphasized the vote was out of context with developments over a period of years since a City Master Plan was approved. This plan apparently has been the guide used to orderly zoning, redevelopment and expansion of a city which used to condone furnishing city services to non-city residents of Boedeker Addition, who apparently wanted to stay out while enjoying most of services otherwise only provided residents in the city limits.

As nicely as possible, Planning Commission members said the Council ignored modern events here and condoned by the 3-1 turnout continuing services to non-residents in effect subsidized by resident taxpayers.

The Council and Planning Commission meet in joint session Monday. After that session, chances are Cameron will never see another reversal in which half of a Cameron governing body knew nothing of a "significant" private poll, survey or petition.

What matters is that the vote has found little but dismay among residents this Council is elected or appointed to represent. And that dismay has turned to positive action in the best interests of the City of Cameron, including those areas and residents within this annexation proposal.

In A Few Weeks...

We want to thank Yoe High band members and subscribers who worked through them to bring off a better sales total for Yoe Band magazine and tape sales than the previous year. It was a successful drive of over $8,000 in magazine and tape subscriptions alone.

And we again want to thank Yoe High School for the splendid co-operation that enabled publication of the first edition of The Yoe Spirit the other day inside The Herald.

The combination of school and Herald efforts has brought broad public endorsement of the results, more money for band student trips and activities and reappearance of a YHS news periodical out of print for eight years.

These projects demonstrate what music, newspaper and education professionals can accomplish in but a few weeks.

CIVIL LIBERTIES AND CRIMINAL LAW

"Justice," declared Supreme Court Justice Benjamin Cardozo in 1934, "though due to the accused, is due to the accuser also. . . . We are to keep the balance true."

Many people, frustrated by high crime rates, feel that the Supreme Court in recent years has tipped the balance against the police and too far in favor of the accused.

But due process for the accused is an essential safeguard; shortcuts to justice lead only to tyranny. The criminal law in America is therefore not only a sword with which society strikes those who prey upon it, but also a shield by which an accused defendant is protected from a vengeful public or overzealous police, prosecutors, or judges.

The legal system that defines and punishes criminal acts also sets the limits within which the state may investigate and prosecute the criminal.

Thus, a fundamental premise of our criminal law is that a defendant is innocent until proven guilty. And the burden of proof is on the state to show that the defendant is guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, not on the defendant to prove his or her innocence.

DUE PROCESS GUARANTEES

The basic procedural or "due process" rights of an accused in a criminal trial are provided for in the Bill of Rights.

The fourth amendment prohibits unreasonable searches and seizures and directs that warrants shall issue only upon probable cause, while the fifth amendment provides for the use of a grand jury to indict persons accused of serious crimes, and prohibits double jeopardy and self-incrimination.

The right to a speedy, public trial by an impartial jury is provided for in the sixth amendment, which also guarantees the defendant's right to know the charges against him, to be confronted with the witnesses against him, to have defense witnesses summoned, and to have counsel. And the eighth amendment prohibits excessive bail or fines and cruel and unusual punishment.

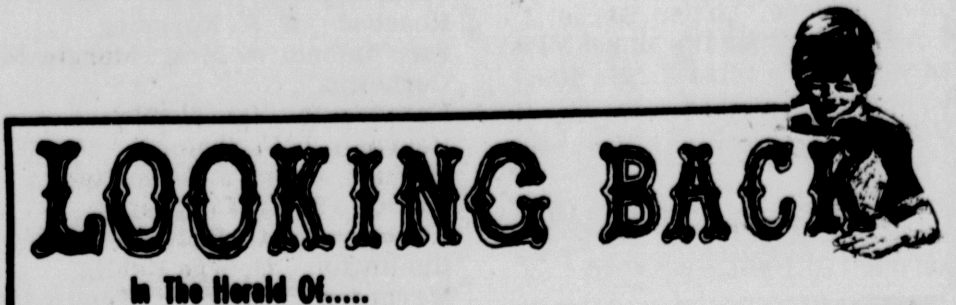

The Supreme Court, which breathes life into the Constitution, over the years has expanded the scope of these provisions to the benefit of the accused.

Of key importance has been the Supreme Court's extension of federal due process requirements to state courts, in which most criminal cases are tried. The Supreme Court has incorporated by judicial decision, the relatively specific safeguards for the accused of the Bill of Rights into the due process clause of the fourteenth amendment, which was applicable to the states.

THE RIGHT TO COUNSEL

Of great significance has been the Supreme Court's extension to indigent defendants of the sixth amendment's guarantee that an accused shall have "the assistance of counsel of his defense." In "Powell vs. Alabama (1932)," the Court held that the right of an indigent defendant to counsel in a capital case was required by due process of law and applicable to the states under the due process clause of the fourteenth amendment.

Thirty years later, in "Gideon vs. Wainwright" (1963), the Court extended the right to counsel to

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Dear Frank:

I want to commend you on having been chosen to speak at the National Newspaper Association's Convention this month. This is certainly a fine honor, and they couldn't have picked a more adept individual.

you and the LAW

Q: I've got a question concerning personal property taxes. I have lived all over Texas and for the first time I've received a tax notice. Everyone I have talked to does not pay it. Can they make you pay back taxes on cars you do not own anymore? What happens if I don't pay it?

A: The property you own as of the first day of the tax year, usually the first of January, is subject to personal property tax in most jurisdictions. This means that if you own a car on the assessment day and sell it the following day, that car is still subject to tax. The taxing authority has to be an outstanding newspaper. Cameron and surrounding areas can be proud of the work you and your staff are doing.

Best wishes in the days ahead and if I can ever be of any service, do not hesitate to call or write.

Very truly yours, the power to file suit against you for payment. Some cities may also have a lien on the property and could foreclose. It could be sold through the power of the court to pay the taxes. True, some taxing jurisdictions are more aggressive in their efforts to collect than others.

Q: My husband and I married about two years ago. Just the other day he surprised me saying that after we married, he adopted a 15 year old girl. Somehow that doesn't ring true. Is it possible that he could legally adopt a child in Texas after our marriage and without my knowledge?

A: You're right, it doesn't ring true. The law says that if the person filing for the adoption of a child is married, both spouses must join in the petition seeking the adoption.

Draw Up Will, Then Update It

BOSTON

The drawing up a legally recognized will is one of those somber chores that many of us put off indefinitely. Others, having performed the task once, fail to recognize the need to constantly update and revise the document as their financial life changes.

More importantly, as federal and state tax statutes change, even the most recently revised wills can be rendered ineffective.

"I'd say that anyone who had a will drawn up before the 1976 Tax Reform Act should at least have his/her will looked at by a lawyer," said John D. Goethel, associate counsel for the law department of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Contrary to popular belief, drawing up or revising a will is usually a simple and inexpensive procedure. Yet, in 1975, 70 percent of the 1.9 million Americans who died left no will.

According to Goethel, even people on the lower end of the economic ladder can point to estate potential far exceeding what one would normally estimate. You don't have to own a palatial home to have an "estate". Group life insurance, company profit-sharing, pension plans and social security benefits all constitute estate potential that should be considered in drawing up a will.

Although the restructuring of the tax rate system in 1976 eases the tax burdens of smaller estates, the consequences of a poorly outlined will may substantially diminish the value of your estate.

Goethel lists three steps that can be taken now to ensure your wishes are carried out at the time of death.

Retain the services of a trusted family lawyer or contact a local professional lawyers' organization for the names of lawyers who can assist you in drawing up a will. Fees vary, but a basic will is relatively inexpensive. Don't hesitate to inquire in advance about the lawyer's fee. You'll need a complete inventory of assets. Include: savings, stocks and bonds, life insurance, all property (home car, furniture, etc.) or anything else that may be of value to the heirs.

After a review of your list of assets, the lawyer will need to know your plan for distribution. He should be shown deeds, bank books, stock certificates and other documents to best advise you whether a change in title might be prudent in order to save taxes. Also, in the event of the death of your chief beneficiary - you and your wife are killed in an accident, for instance, who will receive the benefits?

The lawyer will also ask you to appoint an executor whose chief responsibility is overseeing distribution according to terms of the will. A simple, modest estate could be served, in the interest of economy, by your spouse or trusted relative. A more complex estate requires the services of a co-executor, such as a bank.

In the case of a substantial estate, it might be wise to consider the services of a qualified estate planner. All lawyers can draw a simple will, but a lawyer who specializes in estate planning may be more versed in the ramifications of estate and inheritance taxes.

If you already have a will, it should be reviewed from time to time. A revision may be necessary if any of the conditions listed below have occurred:

- Sale of property.
- The death of the will's executor.
- You've moved to another state or country.
- Acquisition of new assets.
- A change in the state inheritance laws.
- Federal estate tax laws are altered.
- Your marital status has changed.
- A child, now grown, no longer needs as much help, or another child may need more help than his brother or sisters.
- Finally, Goethel pointed out that the will should be viewed as a living document. It reflects your situation today and ability to provide for loved ones in the future.

MR. & MRS. EDWARD ALPHA BOUDREAU

Bride, Groom Help Write Their Canadian Ceremony

Miss Suzanne Alexis Thomas and Edward Alpha Boudreau were married in a double ring ceremony, part of which was written by the bride and groom, in Our Lady of Victory Memorial Church, Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada.

Suzanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wray of Winnipeg and the late Mr. Thomas. Edward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Alpha Boudreau Sr. and the grandson of Mrs. Joe Hebner all of Cameron.

Mrs. E. L. Wied of Cameron, aunt of the groom, was there with fingers crossed watching grandson Kitchie Wilson attired in brown tux and yellow shirt, carry the pillow down the aisle with rings firmly attached. Granddaughter, Lea Wilson, a miniature of the bridesmaids, wore a long yellow dress with cape and carried a basket of autumn chrysanthemums. Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Stewart, Janet and Tom of Evergreen, Colorado where there too, with smiles for brother and Uncle Edward.

The reception and buffet dinner were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. Wilson, Charleswood, Manitoba. An interesting custom there is the wedding cake is always a fruit cake. The bride and groom cut the cake, give each other a piece of the cake. They then proceed to greet each guest, give them a piece of the cake and thank them for participating in their wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boudreau Sr. hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Niakwa Hotel for the bridal party, relatives and out of town guests.

Suzanne is a graduate of the University of Manitoba and Edward is a graduate of the University of Texas and the University of California at Berkeley. He taught economics at the University of Manitoba before entering the sports and recreation business in Winnipeg - known as "The Happy Outdoorsman". He is a frequent guest speaker on radio and television. His articles and photography have been featured in various national publications. He is credited with promoting the cross country skiing's popularity in that area of Canada.

After a honeymoon in Minneapolis, Minn. the couple will be at home at 425 Arnold, Winnipeg.

Business & Professional Women's Club History Goes Back To World War I

Responding to a call issued by the Secretary of War, Newton D. Baker, for a coordinated woman power during World War I, the Woman War Work Council met in New York City in 1918.

Invitations were issued to two representatives of business and professional women from each state east of the Rocky Mountains to meet for a conference.

The one hundred women that were present found themselves united in their desire to adopt a wide program of action beyond war time needs. Due to the need and enthusiasm, the Business and Professional Women's Club was organized by laws, pledges, objectives, emblem, colors and a benediction were adopted.

Today this is a national and international federated club. Objectives are to elevate standards for women, promote the interests of business and professional women, bring about a spirit of cooperation, extend opportunities through educational, scientific and vocational activities.

The Cameron Business and Professional Women's Club was organized in 1925. Miss Lulla Meyers and Mrs. Kathryn Robbins are serving charter members. Mrs. Myrtle Caldwell McLane was first president.

The Cameron club became a federated club in 1927. The club has worked on many projects such as a barn dance, a club supper, bazzars white elephant and auction, sales, sold the birthday calendar, bake sales, cafe and candy sales.

For many years the club members sacked candy for Santa to give to the children so that they would not have to scramble for it off the dirty streets.

The club has made donations to the March of Dimes, to the Community Fund, Red Cross, The M.D. Anderson Cancer Fund, to a fund for exchange of foreign students, have given to worthy Yoe High student graduates for their education, donated to help buy flowers for the downtown mall, to the library, to the museum and to the Jerry Lewis MDA fund and gave coffee to the Carla refugees.

Each year the club honors a young career woman.

Several club women have held political offices. Mrs. Kathryn Robbins was County School Superintendent; the late Mrs. Ida Johns was county treasurer and Mrs. Neoma Levy was city treasurer.

Several members work as volunteer nurses aids at St. Edward's Hospital and several have served as judges at flower shows. Mrs. Vance Werner, a long time member wrote a book on "The History of Building and People of Old Town Cameron," one was placed in the corner stone on the new downtown mall.

From the beginning, the main ambition of the club was to have a club house of their own. After many years of hard work and planning, they now have the club house, the only one in the state of Texas.

The Art and Guild Club, the Retired Federal Employers and the flower clubs also use the club house. The club meets every first and third Monday of each month.

Officers of the club are Mrs. Unice Lawrence, president; Mrs. Willie Falkner, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Mary Houston, 2nd vice-president; Miss Hazel Williams, recording secretary; Mrs. Lillie McWilliams, treasurer; Mrs. Edna Mae Lott.

You are invited to visit and learn more about this organization.

and your electric bill.

Fuel is essential in the production of electricity. Texas Power & Light Company generating plants burn very large amounts of natural gas or lignite coal and, when supplies of gas are short, oil to produce steam which operates turbine generators. Fuel costs are charged to each TP&L customer according to the number of kilowatt-hours of electricity used by the customer.

Before July 1, 1977, your basic rate for electric service included a fuel cost of about eight-tenths of one cent for each kilowatt-hour. The additional cost of fuel used to produce your electricity was shown on your bill as a fuel adjustment factor.

Since July 1, 1977, under requirements of the new Public Utility Commission of Texas, all fuel costs have been removed from the basic rate. Now, the entire amount you pay for the fuel required to produce the electricity you used is shown on your bill in the space identified, Fuel Amt. This amount is figured by multiplying the number of kilowatt-hours of electricity you used by a fuel adjustment factor which appears on your bill in the space identified, Fuel Cost per Kwh. This factor is simply the per kilowatt-hour cost of all fuel required to produce your electricity.

The fuel cost per kilowatt-hour and the fuel amount on your electric bill will vary from month to month. These variations, either up or down, occur as the price TP&L pays for each kind of fuel fluctuates and as the amount of each kind of fuel used varies.

Yoe Fence Blanks R'bud-Lott Cougars, 7-0

by Mike Peck

In the battle of the fences, your first mistake can be your last. The Rosebud-Lott Cougars found that out on their home turf Friday night, the mistake...a fumble, the result...Yoe 7 Rosebud-Lott 0.

Defense was the name of the game in the first half of action, as neither teams offense could muster the energy needed to cross their opponents goal and light the scoreboard.

Yoemen quarterback Wayne Steamer and Wingback Curtis Wise staged an aerial attack that moved the Yoemen 41 yards in 9 plays to the Cougars 26 yard line, the Yoemens deepest penetration of the first half. The drive ended before the Yoemen could push the pigskin into the endzone, with an incomplete pass on fourth and long yardage.

The Cougars offense found the going equally as tough in the first half, moving to the Yoe 30, then giving the ball up to the Yoemen on downs. The Cougars only scoring threat came with less than two minutes left in the opening stanza, as the cats brought their field goal unit onto the field. The attempt by #55, Jerry Thornton failed and the Cougars as the Yoemen were forced to go scoreless in the first half.

Only seven seconds had lapsed in the third quarter, when the Cougars fatal mistake occurred. The cats recieved the kickoff, setting up shop on their own 20 yardline. On first down and ten, Cougars QB #9, Mark Hilliard fumbled the ball into the hands of waiting Yoemen Roderick Kelley, who covered the ball for the Yoemen on the Cats 16 yard line. With 11:53 left in the third quarter the Yoemen were set up deep in Cougar territory. Eight plays later, quarterback Steamer took the ball to paydirt from one yard out and the Yoemen were out in front of the Cougars 6-0. #11 Timmy Matthews added the extra point, splitting the uprights for one, the score Yoe 7 Cougars 0.

A helpless Cougar offense, foiled in the second half by interceptions and fumbles, fought back time and again against an iron clad Yoe defense, but to no avail as the Yoemen held the Cougars of Rosebud-Lott scoreless.

In a last desperate effort, with only 13 seconds remaining in the final stanza, the Cougars went aerial, their first pass failing no where close to its intended receiver, the second picked off by Yoemen #22 David Rosemond to secure the win for the Yoemen. The win moves the Yoemen to 3-3 on the season and 2-1 in district action.

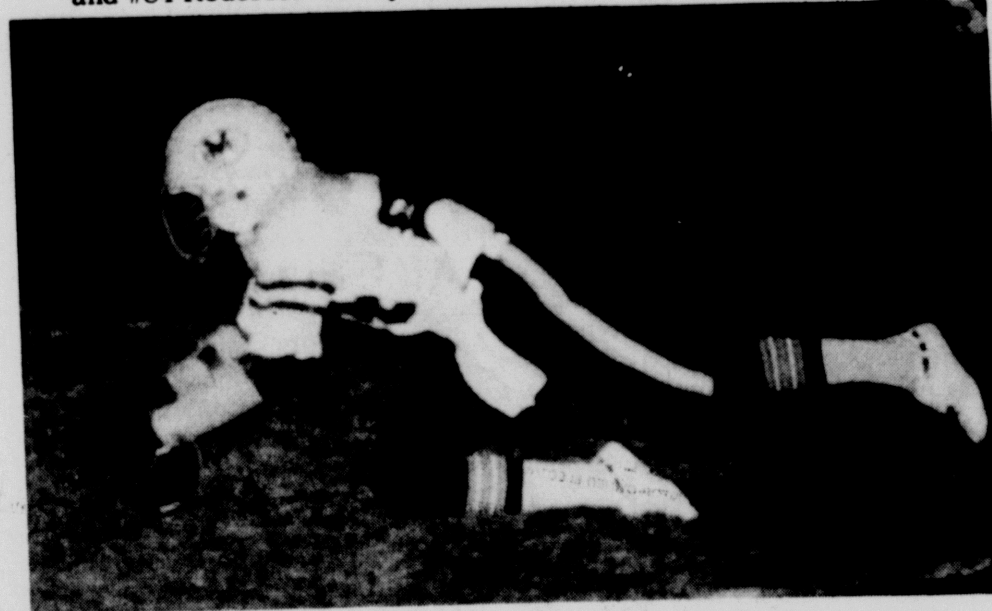

The Yoemen defense was sparked by #76 Jimmy Zalesky and #65 Stephen Hollas, both with fine performances to aid the Yoemen, while Dean Lewis, Steamer, and Wise led the Yoe offensive machine, Lewis with 69 yards in 21 carries while Steamer tallied 55 yards in 15 carries and wing back Wise snagged five passes for 38 yards. Steamer scoring the only Yoe touchdown.

The Yoemen celebrate homecoming this week, as they face the Caldwell Hornets in their fourth district 23AA showdown.

COUGAR HALT "BACK James Judie (dark uniform) finds the going tough as he is upended by Yoemen #88 Peter Riola and #84 Roderick Kelley.

Yoemen #84 Roderick Kelley pounces on a loose Cougar football, a costly error as the Yoemen capitalized, scoring the only touchdown of the night.

New Bass Club Is For Weekend Fishermen

A sports association for south-westerners has been designed by a Southern Methodist University professor and a young Dallas developer.

The Association, with the dubious name BASS-TARD, is the brainchild of C. C. Risenhoover and Hoke Smith. It is an organization for bass fishermen in Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas.

Risenhoover, the professor and a nationally known outdoor writer, said the name BASS-TARD is being used because the organization is original and owes none of its concepts to previously formed associations.

Regarding tournaments Smith said, "We have formed an organization that will offer competitive tournament fishing at lakes close enough to the membership where everyone can participate. Our organization is primarily for weekend fishermen. We'll have one-day tournaments only, and the day prior to the tournament anglers can acquaint themselves with the lake. We want to give everyone an equal chance."

Smith said tournament prizes will consist of cash, merchandise and trophies.

"We'll have six tournaments in 1978," he said "with a masters tournament to determine the top fisherman in the Association."

The organization will also publish BASS-TARD Magazine six times a year, a publication specifically for bass fishermen in the southwest.

Risenhoover said BASS-TARD will also work toward a fish release program and an educational program for the public concerning bass clubs.

Persons interested in additional information can contact BASS-TARD, 3128 Lemmon Avenue East Dallas, Texas 75204.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Joseph D. Janak, Jr.

One of the programs offered to area 4-H'ers is our 1977-78 Milam County Junior Broiler Program. This program sponsored by the Cameron Area Chamber of Commerce is available to all 4-H youth who are interested in raising and showing broilers.

In this program the sponsor furnishes free to the 4-H'er, 50 baby chicks, while the youth only has to furnish the chicks with feed and housing for the 7-1/2 week growing period.

At the end of the 7-1/2 weeks growing period, the five best broilers are selected and brought to the Jr. Livestock Show in Cameron on January 13-14 where they will be shown. After the show, the five show broilers will go to the sponsor and the grower keeps the remainder of the flock.

There will be no straight run chicks, and an award will be given to the grower keeping the best records. In view of this, we encourage you to keep the best possible records for the entire 7-1/2 weeks of this program.

An entry form is available from the County Agent's office or from the Chamber of Commerce in Cameron and is due back at the office on October 20.

Another program offered to area 4-H'ers is the Farm Bureau Gilt Program. Every year five gilts are given to five 4-H'ers for them to raise, have bred, and produce a litter of pigs.

This year the pigs are about five weeks old now and will be looking for a home with a new 4-H'er. After the gilt has farrowed its litter, one of the pigs will be selected and given to another youngster.

To be eligible to receive a gilt sponsored by the Farm Bureau, you need to write a short paragraph explaining why you want to have this project and mail or give it to the Assistant County Agent, Joe Janak.

Both of these programs are a good way to start off in 4-H and both are free, thanks to the Cameron Chamber of Commerce and the Milam County Farm Bureau.

ROYCE HART

Arc Welding Short Course Set At Buckholts

A farm arc welding short course for adult farmers will be held Oct. 17-20 under the sponsorship of the Buckholts High School vocational ag department, according to Jimmy Hauk, superintendent, and O. T. Johnson, vo-ag teacher.

Royce Hart, welding specialist with the vocational agriculture division of the Texas Education Agency and the department of agricultural engineering at Texas A&M, will be instructor.

The short course at Buckholts will begin Oct. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the vo-ag building. Other meetings in the series of four will be held Oct. 18, 19 and 20. During the dates the course is in progress, Hart will be available to assist farmers with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction.

Farmers interested in attending should write or call Hauk or Johnson. An entry fee of $10 will be charged. Farm arc welding short course certificates will be presented to each enrollee who attends all the sessions.

Hart will cover such subjects as safety in welding, factors controlled by the operator in running a bead and striking an arc, types of electrodes, preparation of joints, distortion, cutting, hard-surfacing, and pipe welding.

Applications Increase For GI Home Loans

Applications for GI home loans totaled 39,537 in July, pushing the total number of applications to 367,864 for the first 10 months of fiscal year 1977, Jack Coker, director of the Waco VA Regional Office, reported today.

The GI home loan program was established in 1944 for veterans with other than dishonorable discharges. Service consisting only of "active duty for training" does not qualify individuals for home loan guaranty, Coker explained.

The VA home loan guaranty program helps finance the purchase of a reasonably priced home at a favorable rate of interest and with little or no down-payment. It encourages private lending institutions to make bigger loans than they otherwise would with the VA guaranteeing part of the loan.

The VA also will guarantee loans to alter, improve, refinance or repair a home if the veteran or service member certifies he occupies the property as his home.

Complete information on GI home loans can be obtained from any veterans' service officer or local VA office.

Field Enumerators Keep Tabs
On Cotton for Crop Statistics

AUSTIN--In the near-silence of the early morning, a lone pickup truck rumbles to a stop beside a field of glistening green cotton stalks. A woman steps from the truck and kneels among the rows, carefully examining several of the plants and jotting down information in a notebook.

A cotton buyer checking the crop? No, this woman isn't a buyer, but a field enumerator. She is one of 54 in Texas employed by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service to provide a detailed study of a "section" of a cotton field.

This work is part of the overall process of estimating cotton yields and harvesting losses in providing statistics on the state's cotton production.

Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown commends the work of the enumerators. "We have found that these enumerators are well trained by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service and do a thorough job."

During the cotton growing season, special plant counts and measurements are made to indicate yield as a guide to production. There are 710 such sample units across the state.

The enumerator returns to the same units each month to count the number of squares, blooms and bolls. This information, along with the acreage data and a continuing response to mail questionnaires sent to cotton farmers, are important ingredients in accurate monthly production forecasts, issued beginning Aug. 1 through December.

Near harvest time, the enumerator, who started the season with an intensive training course, picks the cotton in the sample units and send it to the laboratory in Austin for moisture checks and other examinations to refine the estimate.

After the farmer harvests the field, the enumerator makes one final visit to glean the cotton missed by the stripper or picker as an indication of harvesting loss.

Know Proper
Way to Buy
Firewood

AUSTIN--Fireplace wood is rapidly becoming one of the most expensive fuels for the household and one which the homeowner least understands how to buy by measurement, states Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Brown advises consumers not to buy firewood by "the pickup load" or by the "rick". Instead, he says, ask for the exact dimensions of the wood when it is stacked at your home, and buy accordingly.

A legal cord of wood measures four feet high, four feet wide and eight feet long, he notes.
